The New York Press on the Territorial Bill

[From the New York Herald]

The important bill for the reconstruction of North Carolina from the very foundation which Mr Stevens introduced in the House of Representatives on Thursday is the best in settlement thorough and we think final plan of settling the whole question of Southern restoration. It is comprehensive and both liberal and conservative at the same time. It leaves no room for quibbling about pretended rights but takes up a state of things anterior to the rebellion as to population of the South. It deals frankly and directly with the actual condition and status of that section of the country. It is we are persuaded the readiest and surest way to restore the South within the shortest time practicable.

In introducing this measure framed by the mind of a statesman Mr Stevens has abandoned the role he sometimes takes of an extreme radical partisan and is made the leader of a great party for carrying out a grand and comprehensive policy. The bill was referred to the Committee on Territories but we suppose it will soon be brought before Congress again when the whole question of restoration will be discussed and disposed of for all the other rebel States as well as for North Carolina.

The preamble of the bill declares that the citizens of North Carolina did rebel and violently set aside and destroy the organized Constitutional Government of the State. This is directly in conflict with the theory of the President upon which the whole of his programme of reconstruction was founded. He held that the functions of the rebel States were only suspended and not destroyed. But this theory whether sound or unsound, has no practical value now. The Congress of the United States which alone has the power to define the status of these States and to refuse or admit them to be restored thinks proper to declare that after having put down the rebellion it finds no Government organized or officers qualified according to the requirements of the Constitution of the United States in the rebel States. It is then assumed that the action of the President throughout in the Southern States was under the war power and martial law, for the purpose of preserving peace and order, and of relieving his subordinate military officers from executing details of civil regulations and that now "it is the duty of Congress by law to cause to be organized a Government Republican in form based on the civil and law making power of the nation."

If the South be wise it will cease talking about its fancied rights and imagined grievances learn that there has been a revolution see that it is absolutely in the hands of its conquerors and accept promptly the Congressional plan of reorganization and restoration. If they do this they will be fully restored to the Union within a year or so their troubles will be ended their beautiful country will enter upon a glorious career of prosperity and they will help to elect the next President in 1868.

[From the New York Times]

Rather than permit the present state of affairs to continue indefinitely fraught as it is with all feeling and peril we would push reconstruction on the Territorial plan. It were better to assume that task, with all its delicate contingencies than permit a practical severance of the Union or its restoration on a basis to be fixed by the rebel leaders. And to this complexion we believe we must come at last. The folly and contumacy of the South may necessitate and justify it as a means of consummating the victory achieved by the Union forces. But is it prudent to take the step before renewing the offer of compromise contemplated in Mr Spalding's resolution? We ask simply is it expedient?—for the right of Congress to adopt ulterior measures even to the extent of beginning afresh the work of organizing local Governments we are prepared to concede. Only let this severe and sweeping policy come not too soon or too hastily.

May it not be wise to give the moderate element at the South a little further time for the assertion of its strength? We dare not hope that that strength will prevail but the trial will be beneficial inasmuch as it will test the power of the rational portion of the people and will prevent their consolidation against the course which may be afterward adopted by Congress.

THE BURNING OF THE NEW IRONSIDES.—The Philadelphia North American of December 17th says:

We chronicle with a regret that will be shared by everybody the total destruction by fire of the national iron clad frigate New Ironsides built at a cost to the Government of a million and a half of dollars. Her history is known over the entire world. She was a miracle in her way and was the instrumentality which brought conviction to the minds of the British Admiralty that their wooden hulls were wooden humbugs. She lay yesterday at the pier at League Island. The back channel is filled with smaller vessels of the iron clad species. At the pier lay the Ironsides the Dictator the St Louis and other larger vessels. About one o'clock yesterday morning from the hatchway of the Ironsides arose a column of smoke. There was a watchman in charge and the alarm was soon given but the few employes of the Government in the vicinity found themselves powerless to check the flames that were bursting in solid column from the interior of the doomed vessel. The entire vicinity was aroused. The Dictator and the St Louis were towed away from proximity to the burning leviathan for it was evident that to save her was an impossibility. Ensign Standard who is stationed at League Island, sent to the city for assistance and the Shiffler hose and other apparatus with a degree of diligence that cannot too highly be praised were drawn to the spot. The companies could get very little water and their services though willing were of little avail. The vessel was entirely destroyed. As fast as the wood work burned away the plating dropped from it and fell into the water. The wreck was total. Nothing is left but the iron that may be brought up from the bottom of the river. That the Ironsides did not sink was because she lay with her keel in the mud. There was a report that a gunboat beside her had shared her fate a report that we are very glad to state was without foundation. There was nothing in the vessel. Her armament had been removed and there was nothing in her but her machinery.

THE NEVADA LEGISLATURE—FINANCES.—Gov Blasdel sent in his first message to the Legislature to day, Jan 10 accompanied by reports of the various State officers. The following extract shows the condition of the State finances: "The State debt exclusive of Territorial liabilities, which were assumed approximates $2[illegible]3 000 in coin. Of this amount there will be due on February 1 1867 $218 000 and of the floating debt $60 000. The balance in the Treasury January 1 1866 was $51 000. The total receipts during the last fiscal year from all sources were $4[illegible]000. The total disbursements were $[illegible]20 000. The balance on hand in all the different funds is about $138 000 mostly in currency. As the Legislature will not again convene until January 1869, it will be necessary to make appropriations to defray the expenses of the State government for two years. To meet these expenses provide for the payment of our funding indebtedness, and place the affairs of the State upon a permanent cash basis I recommend the negotiation of a loan of $300 000. This amount with a corresponding revenue will in my opinion relieve our financial embarrassments."

A MEMBER OF THE NEW JERSEY LEGISLATURE SENT TO PRISON FOR BRIBERY.—Charles Bibb a Democratic member of the last New Jersey Legislature from Hudson county was on December 17th sentenced in the Mercer County Court to hard labor in the State Prison for one year and to be forever after disqualified from holding any office of profit or trust in the State. Chief Justice Beasley in delivering the sentence was very severe upon legislative bribery. In the [illegible] on the delivery of the sentence the Supreme Court heard Bibb's application for a new trial. Bibb is a resident of West Hoboken from which locality he was elected a member of the Legislature.

The bill to repeal the provisions of the law of 1862 so as to prevent treason and capital offenses from being barred by the statute of limitations came up again on the 12th in the House. It gave occasion to a very irrelevant speech from Mr Rogers who said that the President would go down to history as one of the brightest jewels that had ever illumined the country and sat down at last quite extinguished by the laughter of his hearers. The bill after more serious opposition, was recommitted to the Judiciary Committee.

MORE ABOUT JOHN H SURRATT—WAS JEFFERSON DAVIS A PARTY TO THE ASSASSINATION?—The following statement comes from a correspondent writing from Montreal Canada December 15th to the New York Herald:

I learn this morning from a distinguished Southerner that Surratt was on his way to Washington from this city when he was informed by telegraph of the assassination of President Lincoln and that he immediately returned to Montreal. Surratt was advised by C C Clay and Gen Breckinridge to go to England which he did by one of the first steamers that left Quebec after his mother had been executed. He remained in Birkenhead for two months, when he was joined by one of the St Albans raiders named Cameron. Surratt while in this city spoke very frequently of a plot to assassinate President Lincoln to his confidential friends and always told the same story which was that he with others intended to carry off Lincoln to Richmond and hold him there as a hostage for the Southern prisoners. Immediately after Surratt had arrived in Montreal he held a consultation with the rebel leaders then stopping at the St Lawrence Hotel when the plot was changed to assassination and Wilkes Booth who was then at the St Lawrence offered to perform the deed. Surratt protested that neither Andrew Johnson nor Jeff Davis knew anything of their intentions their names were never even mentioned by the assassins. He remarked to my informant the day he left Montreal for England that his mother was innocent and did not know of their intentions. It is denied by every person in this city who knew Surratt that he had filial veneration enough to have confessed his own guilt to save his mother. On his leaving Canada he had not friends enough to purchase a passage ticket to Liverpool and when in England Cameron supplied him with money to go to Paris. Surratt joined the Papal Zouaves last August and while in Rome he was regularly informed of the movements of the detectives who were detailed to hunt him up.

THE RECORDS OF SALISBURY PRISON.—It has been generally supposed that no records were kept of the rebel prison pen at Salisbury North Carolina but fortunately for the gratification of the relatives of the men who perished there, Lieut Col J F Moore the Quartermaster having charge of the national cemeteries, has discovered and secured the monthly reports of the prison officials. These reports contain the names rank and regiment of over 2 000 of the Union dead buried in North Carolina and at Belle Isle, Va. A large portion of those men of our armies who never returned to their homes were reported in the official lists of casualties as "missing" and no tidings of their fate have ever been received by their anxious friends. Thousands of families in the land are yet suffering the terrible suspense of hoping still to meet these lost ones and yet fearing that they have filled a soldier's grave. Many of these men were captured by the enemy died in prison and were buried, their friends knowing nothing more of their fate than the melancholy fact that they are still missing. By the discovery of these reports the friends of 2,000 deceased soldiers will be informed of the death of the long absent loved ones but very few indeed of the remains can be identified, owing to the neglect of the prison authorities to place any record on the graves to establish the identity of the deceased. The remains are buried in seventeen trenches each about two hundred feet in length. The trenches were dug and the soldiers were buried by Union soldiers and loyal civilians who were confined in the Salisbury prison under the charge of a rebel sergeant and a squad of privates and the remains were packed in these trenches one body upon another, and covered with earth. The reports containing those names will be placed on file in the Death and Burial Bureau and any information in reference to them will doubtless be furnished by Lieut Col Moore on application to him.

NORTH CAROLINA LOYALISTS.—Washington December 15.—Governor Holden, John Pool, J F Taylor, and Messrs Harris and Jenkins, of North Carolina, who have been in Washington for several days, have left the city and are now on their way home. They were appointed a committee to come hither in the interests of the loyal people of that State and they represent the views of about forty of the one hundred and seventy members of the Legislature. They say that the bill prepared by them, and introduced yesterday by Representative Stevens to remand North Carolina to a territorial condition and to provide for a convention to form a new State Government, stands a good chance of being passed and that the leading Republican members have privately expressed themselves in its favor. These delegates have distributed among Congressmen a circular showing that a test of loyalty in the insurgent States is essential. Its application they say would effectually place the government of the Southern States in the hands of the Union men and preclude every secessionist and no other test can do so without excluding thousands who at the first were misled but who repented and afterwards periled their lives and estates in support of the Union. There need be no apprehensions that this oath would be falsely taken. The status of every man at that time was distinctly known to his neighbors. The line was clearly drawn upon this test and upon it hundreds were imprisoned outraged and murdered. By the same measure let the persecuted Unionists have their reward. They are now discouraged and paralyzed because the President would boldly deliver them over to degradation incurred on account of their adherence to the Union in the dark days of treason and blood.

A Washington letter says: A queer state of things exists here among the expectants of office. The great question is if the Executive nominates will the Senate confirm? Therefore applicants will have to conciliate both branches and some amusing disclosures have recently been made relative to the manner in which aspirants surmount the difficulty. In a late Senatorial caucus the question of the admission of Nebraska and Colorado as States was discussed and it was stated that the Senators elect from those inchoate States had pledged themselves to the support of the Radicals. This was all very well so far as it went, but as it happens the same gentlemen had also pledged themselves to the support of the President the question is who do they really support the President or Congress? Place seekers should make up their minds on this score before coming here as it may save them from some disagreeable dilemmas.

The National Intelligencer gives the following estimate of the production of gold during the year 1866: "The value of the bullion in lumps bars ingots or otherwise assessed during the fiscal year 1866 is given by the internal revenue returns at $31 183 531. Of this amount $20 032 809 was assessed in the Pacific and Rocky mountain States and Territories and the remainder chiefly in the Atlantic seaboard cities. It is estimated that in the gold producing regions of the country at least twenty five per cent of the product escaped assessment and that of the gold assessed in the Atlantic seaboard cities one half is of domestic production. In view of these facts and taking the internal revenue returns as a basis of estimate the production of gold in the fiscal year 1866 is calculated at $93 219 3[illegible]4. The production of gold in 1865 is estimated at $[illegible]3 [illegible]44 358 an increase in 1866 of $19 [illegible] 910."

THE SOUTHERN REPUBLICAN ASSOCIATION.—This Association at a meeting in Washington on the 11th December arrived at a final conclusion regarding the object for which they have been laboring. A report was received from the Executive Committee recommending that the Association memorialize Congress to overthrow the existing State Governments in the South disfranchise forever all who have fought for the rebellion, enfranchise all who remained loyal both white and black and secure to the loyal permanent control of the new organizations. No particular method is recommended to secure this object but Congress is called upon to decide for itself whether or not the territorial or any other theory is the best. The report was adopted.

A DIFFERENCE.—Reverdy Johnson asserted in the course of his remarks before the Senate lately that the Executive had granted fewer pardons than his predecessor. President Johnson said in one of his St Louis speeches "I reckon I have pardoned more men turned more men loose and set them at liberty that were imprisoned I imagine than any other man on God's habitable globe."

MRS SURRATT'S HOUSE HAUNTED.—There is a three story brick tenement in the middle of a block fronting upon one of Washington's lesser thoroughfares that is making itself peculiarly obnoxious to timid people and ridiculous among the stouter hearted. The building in question is none other than that belonging to Mrs Surratt, executed as one of the conspirators of the assassination and in which she was apprehended and led forth to accusation and the gallows. In the course of settlement of her estate the house in question was offered for sale and even then the public seemed shy and indifferent to the purchase, and so it came that a property worth by moderate comparison, $10 000 fell under the hammer at the insignificant sum of $4 600. The new landlord, therefore instituted such improvements as completely changed the aspect of the property and all but transferred its site, and in the course of time came a tenant but not to remain. In less than six weeks the lessee had flown from beneath the roof, forfeited his year's rental and was ready to swear with chattering teeth that his nervous system was shattered for a lifetime.

Others succeeded to the occupancy of the house he had vacated, in turn to make a shuddering exit. Mrs Surratt's house is haunted! There can be no reasonable doubt upon the subject. She herself persists in treading the halls and perambulating the premises in the dead night, clad in those self same robes of serge in which she suffered the penalty of the law. In costume she differs from the "woman in white" unmistakably, but that the general effect is none the less thrilling, and altogether fatal to the composure of the beholder is positively asserted by each successive occupant of the mansion. People who reside with in adjoining walls are not troubled with either sights or sounds, but they begin to have a whole some dread of the mansion in their midst, and have actually procured a reduction of their rental upon the ground of exposure to an unabatable nuisance. Thus the whole of a very common place neighborhood is infected with a fancy that keeps them within doors of nights, and causes the local juveniles to abandon their games in the court yards with the sinking of the sun.—Boston Post

A TEXAS PAPER ON THE AMENDMENT.—Various indications show that a wiser feeling is obtaining among the Southern people, in regard to the Amendment. The Galveston Bulletin says:

We constantly hear the Amendment denounced as a "Radical measure, as the epitome of Radical principles, and as the full fruition of Radical enormities." If these persons who make these statements are asked, is "Thaddeus Stevens a Radical?" they will answer "the prince of Radicals, the fountain head from which flows the Radical stream." Yet Mr Stevens is bitterly opposed to the Amendment, he fought it valiantly at every step and denounced it in a set speech. Is Wendell Phillips a Radical? Yea verily, the bitterest of the whole crew yet he hates the name of the Amendment and omits on no occasion to stigmatize it. Theo Tilton was thought a tolerable Radical when he marched arm in arm with Fred Douglass through Independence Square, but uses his editorial pen against it most vigorously. Horace Greeley is a very venerable Radical yet he does not like the Amendment. The Amendment is not a Radical measure, neither is it Democratic. It avoids both sides of the stream, and keeps in the clear water. The Democratic papers of the North propose to give universal suffrage by State action. This would please many of the Radicals, and it would not be strange to see the ultra Radicals and Democrats fighting during the coming session on the same side, as they sometimes did during the last session.

We believe that nine tenths of the clamor raised throughout the South against the Constitutional Amendment comes, not from the people, but from that class of ambitious party leaders and politicians whom the action of the Amendment would deprive of political influence and power.

SOUTHERN REPUBLICAN ASSOCIATION.—This society met in Washington, on the 7th of December. Sixty members were present, each State being fully represented, excepting North Carolina and Arkansas though twenty five citizens of the former State are now on their way to Washington, to participate in the deliberations of the society, and to care for the interests of the State during the session of Congress. The Association declared unanimously in favor of universal suffrage, that the present State Governments ought by Congress to be declared nullities and that Congress should devise some means of governing these districts or territories through a loyal element. It is safe to say the general sense of the members present favored territorial governments for those districts South, though some advocated that Congress pass enabling acts, and authorize and protect the loyal people irrespective of color, in these districts, in forming new governments. Others contending that Congress had the power to form the governments. Two propositions were presented as plans for re organization. The first of these, by Judge Saffold of Alabama, was to authorize the appointment of two commissioners by the United States District Judges in each State, to constitute an advisory board which would carry into effect an enabling act. The second proposition was by Judge Sherwood of Texas, for Congress to appoint commissioners for each State, to prepare a State Constitution, to be approved by Congress, and submit it to the people for ratification.

JOHNSON'S RECONSTRUCTION.—The following dispatch concerning certain doings of the Georgia Legislature shows the result of Johnson's policy. Such a State as this ought to be reconstructed from the bed rock:

SAVANNAH (Ga.), Dec. 1.—Henderson introduced the following preamble and resolution yesterday in the House, which have been unanimously adopted in both branches of the Legislature:

WHEREAS, The General Assembly would do injustice to the great heart of Georgia not to give some formal expression to their respect for the character and services of the illustrious prisoner of state, Jefferson Davis all the generous pulses of that heart are in full unison and sympathy with his sufferings and misfortunes. Its warm affections cluster around the fallen chief of a once dear but now abandoned cause. There they will cluster and center while men admire all that is chivalric in nature, while they regard all that is noble in virtue. Therefore the General Assembly

Resolve, That their sincere condolence and warmest sympathy are tendered to Jefferson Davis in his confinement, and they look forward with anxious solicitude to the day when a magnanimous and patriotic President shall put an end to his confinement and by the interposition of Executive clemency restore him to a people for whom he so faithfully struggled and on account of whom he endures with Christian fortitude the hardships of a long and rigorous imprisonment.

THAT METEORIC SHOWER.—Here is a decidedly reasonable explanation of the apparent failure of the meteoric shower lately expected:

An Eastern paper says that there is some reason to believe that the meteoric shower actually came off in the day time. We learn that in Stamford, Ct, the meteors were quite numerous during Tuesday forenoon and plainly visible notwithstanding the sun shone brilliantly. Many persons saw them and have remarked upon them. They were seen from shady places and presented a whitish appearance like the moon in the daytime, varying in distances according to the position in reference to the sun.

Here is another reason which may be still more satisfactory. We find it in the St Paul, (Minnesota) Press:

The expected meteoric shower was confessedly a failure. Mr Johnson on his recent memorable trip having snatched from the firmament and distributed broadcast over the land innumerable bunches of stars and flags (thirty six stars in a bunch) the celestial economy is supposed to have been unequal to a further supply as promised by the astronomers.

The Minerve of Montreal says: "After the arrest of his accomplices Surratt took refuge in Canada where he remained in hiding for several months. The police were on his steps and more than once his place of refuge was near being discovered. Thanks however to the fidelity of his guardians who refused the brilliant offers made by some of the American police he was able to remain at liberty till the moment of his departure for Europe."

Woolen Manufactures

Late Eastern papers give a discouraging account of the condition of woolen manufactures in all the States where this branch of industry is largely carried on. The New York Tribune publishes a long list of establishments which have been compelled to stop entirely or are running at half the rate and adds in explanation of the cause: "This is no fancy picture. It represents the condition of the woolen interest of the whole country. It is perishing of foreign importations." This will not appear strange when it is understood that the importation of foreign wools and woolen manufactures for 1866 amounted to about $60,000,000, or nearly $50,000,000 more than the annual average during the last twenty years. Hence it appears that foreign goods are rapidly taking the place of those of domestic manufacture. The Alta has a well considered article on this subject, from which we extract a paragraph:

"It is suggested from these failures and complaints all over the country, and from the great balance of trade against us during the last year, that Congress has been sadly apathetic, obtuse and derelict in duty. If our manufactures of wool and iron have to stop, and their capital and labor are driven into idleness, how can the Government possibly maintain itself at an annual cost of over $300,000,000 a year? The domestic taxes must inevitably fall upon the farmer, miner and merchant more heavily than now, while labor will, as in 1857, everywhere go a begging. California has as great a prospective interest in this matter as any State in the Union. In 1860 the whole production of raw wool in all the United States and Territories was but a little over sixty millions of pounds, of which this State yielded one twentieth. Our exports in 1865 are tabulated at a little less than one ninth of the whole country's production in 1860, in 1866 at about one thirteenth. The decline in the export of the raw material is in part due to our increase in manufactures. The whole production of the State in 1865 was 8,849,931 pounds, or more than one-seventh of the entire production of the country in 1860. In 1866 the whole yield of the State was 8,532,647 pounds, sold at an average price of a fraction less than 20 cents per pound. The exports of 1865 brought a fraction over 20 cents per pound. In 1866 there was about a third more wool retained for domestic manufactures. These figures, we admit, are not discouraging, but how much better a showing should we be able to make both in home woolen manufactures and in the production of the raw material for export to the East, if Congress would give and maintain the needed protection? This State, Oregon and Arizona have capacity to produce more wool than the whole country yielded in 1860. All we want is such an unlimited market as the tariff bill killed by the Senate last year would give our sheep raisers. Moreover, our woolen manufacturers ought to demand this protection. We cannot progress from coarse to the finer fabrics, or very much expand in that branch of industry without it."

These remarks will apply with equal force to Oregon. Our people are interested in the production and manufacture of wool. This interest must be unfavorably affected if the present immense importations continue. The grain market, hitherto our chief reliance, has failed us, and we must become a manufacturing State. And our young and struggling manufactures must have protection against foreign competition or they cannot succeed.

Refuting Themselves

The ways of Copperheadism are past finding out. Grumbling is easy and cheap, and the Copperhead's business is fault finding and denunciation. Consistency even in this occupation, is no care of his. The other day we read a long leader in one of our home Democratic organs, in which it was asserted that the Radicals were determined to concentrate all political power in the hands of a few persons, and finally to establish a centralized, despotic Government. A little farther on in the same article the Radicals were assailed with passionate vehemence, because they are in favor of impartial suffrage. Here, in the course of a single article the Radicals are charged with an intention of destroying republican government by centralization, and are denounced because they desire an equal distribution of political power among the people. They are accused of entertaining a design of making this a consolidated Government, and with the next breath are upbraided for giving the ballot to classes of population hitherto disfranchised. Yet those who make these assertions are not ashamed of their self stultification, but with unabashed front daily repeat these and other charges and denunciations, never stopping to inquire whether there can be any truth in them, and never allowing their follies time to work out their own refutation. Attentive readers who wish to arrive at the truth, have only to wait with a little patience, and these carpers will be invariably found refuting themselves.

The Nation's Alms People.

The recent report of General Howard, Commissioner of the Freedmen's Bureau, furnishes some facts which will challenge attention. It has long been well known that in several States the Bureau was affording more aid to the whites than the blacks. The report furnishes statistics fully confirming this fact. In the States of South Carolina, Georgia, Florida, Alabama, Louisiana and Arkansas, from June 1st, 1865, to September 1st, 1866, there were issued to whites 4,249,285 rations, to blacks, 3,732,913 rations,—showing that the number of whites who have been assisted by the Bureau in those States is largely in excess of the number of freedmen who received assistance from the same source. There are those who object to being taxed to support "niggers." With much greater propriety might others object to being taxed to support rebels, especially as more rebels than "niggers" receive alms of the Government. The Department of which Gen. Howard is head, should be called the slave masters' Bureau instead of the Bureau for Freedmen.

THE END OF THE SLAVE TRADE.—There is one short passage in the Report of the Secretary of the Navy, just presented to Congress, which, probably overlooked amid the imposing details given in that document of the strength of our naval arm, and the movements of our squadrons in different parts of the world, merits, we think, particular notice. It is this:

"But one slaver has been fitted out on the southern coast of Africa within the past year, and she has been captured on the coast of Cuba with her cargo. It was the opinion of prominent officials at Loando, including the French Admiral on that station, that the slave trade had expired and that this blot on civilization had become at last a matter of history."

We also find the following in the Report:

"The vessels on the West India station were instructed to exercise vigilance in detecting slavers and preventing the slave trade, provided any lingering remains of that nefarious traffic still existed. But no captures have been made and it is to be hoped this infamous trade is extinguished."

SAN FRANCISCO TO NEW YORK BY RAIL.—The distance between these points by the route the railroad will traverse is given at 2,058 miles. The steepest grade on the route is in ascending the Blue Hills, where the ascent is 105 feet per mile. The highest point traversed between the Atlantic and Pacific oceans is in the Black Hills where the road attains an altitude of 8,200 feet (over a mile and a half) above the sea level, while the highest point of Bridger's Pass where the road crosses the Rocky mountains, is but 7,434 feet above tide water. Salt Lake City being 4,280 feet in elevation and the summit of the Sierra Nevadas 7,011 feet.

A private letter received at Montreal says that the only surviving descendant of Christopher Columbus is shortly to visit America.

RISING.—The Willamette was rapidly rising during the afternoon and evening of yesterday.

[DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN.]

DATES TO JANUARY 15.

Congressional

WASHINGTON, Jan 14.—In the House a resolution was offered declaring that there should be no greater curtailment of the national currency than $8,000,000 during the year 1867, which shall be the retirement of compound interest notes falling due, and that when the amount exceeds $5,000,000 the excess shall be filled by issuing treasury notes.

[illegible] from the [illegible] Committee reported [illegible] $300 to loyal slave owners [illegible].

Bell [illegible] privilege to [illegible].

The Senate considered the bill regulating the tenure of offices.

[illegible] presented [illegible] for the passage of the tariff bill [illegible] rights against the [illegible].

Lane of Indiana [illegible] bill [illegible] change [illegible] of appointing [illegible] Agents [illegible] that they shall [illegible] after being appointed by the President with advice and consent of the Senate. Sumner's amendment requiring that all officers and agents of the Government whose salary or fees amount to [illegible] be confirmed by the Senate was opposed by Lane who said he would prefer it as a [illegible]. Rejected [illegible]. In the Senate bill to regulate tenure of offices, Hendricks' amendment to strike out the provision that vacancies be filled except with the advice and consent of the Senate, and that if this be violated the salary or fees shall not be paid to such officers as may exercise such powers, was debated by Hendricks of Ind, Cowan of Penn, Williams of Ogn and Frelinghuysen of N J. Sherman of Ohio said the bill contemplated nothing incompatible or revolutionary. Of two thousand removals made by the President since last summer not one hundred had been reported to the Senate. If he believed the President would try to harmonize with the Senate, and send their names for those rejected, he would no doubt be willing to let him fill vacancies during recess.

But the President had manifested no such disposition. At Buckalew's suggestion Hendricks withdrew the amendment to let the debate proceed on the general merits of the bill.

Howe of Wisconsin moved to strike out the words "expiration of term or other cause" in the third section which reads as follows: "That the President shall have power to fill all vacancies which may happen during the recess of the Senate by reason of death, resignation, expiration of term or other lawful cause, by granting commissions which shall expire at the next session thereof." The amendment was agreed to.

Williams of Oregon spoke generally in favor of the bill.

After an executive session the Senate adjourned.

In the House Wilson of Iowa asked leave to offer a resolution against any greater curtailment of National circulation than $400,000 per month during 1867 and that for compound interest notes authorized to be withdrawn in excess of that amount legal tender notes without interest ought to be substituted. House refused to suspend rules. Ayes 74, nays 67. So the resolution was not received.

Hooper of Massachusetts moved a suspension of the rules to allow the introduction of a resolution that it is expedient to increase the amount of National Bank Notes for circulation beyond the $300,000,000 authorized by law. House refused to suspend rules.

Banks, of Massachusetts offered a resolution declaring that it is the duty of the Government to give effect to the moral sentiment of the Nation through all its agencies for the purpose of preventing further introduction of Coolies into this country. Adopted unanimously.

Bill for the admission of Nebraska was taken up and the question of impartial suffrage was debated at length. House negatived a call of previous question by a vote of 63 to 67, but without coming to vote adjourned.

Washington News

WASHINGTON, Jan 14.—Loan of Missouri took the floor on his impeachment resolution. In the course of his remarks he charged the President with complicity in the assassination of Lincoln. He was called to order by Hale of New York, but the Speaker overruled the objection.

The Supreme Court has decided that the provision of the Missouri Constitution requiring the test oath of clergymen is unconstitutional. Also, that the test oath prescribed by Congress is unconstitutional. Justice Field delivered the opinions in two cases. Justice Miller delivered the dissenting opinion in which Chief Justice Chase and Justices Swayne and Davis concurred.

The House Committee on Banks had under consideration to-day the proposition to substitute legal tender Treasury notes for the present national banking system. They will resume it again at next meeting. It seems to meet with considerable favor. There is no foundation for the statement that the Government has received information of large quantities of American bonds being sent home for sale on account of apprehended difficulties growing out of impeachment. The Finance Committees of both Houses give it flat contradiction. The Ways and Means Committee intend to proceed immediately to the consideration of the tariff bill but do not expect to be able to report it before the lapse of two or three weeks.

The President sent a batch of nominations to the Senate, among them being Senator Cowan for Minister to Austria vice Motley removed.

WASHINGTON, Jan 14.—Justice Field to-day delivered the opinion of the Supreme Court in the Missouri test oath case, John Alumitus, a Roman Catholic priest who was indicted for preaching and teaching without taking the oath prescribed by the Constitution of the State, being plaintiff in error. The Court decides that the oath in this case is unconstitutional, being in the nature of punishment without trial and in its character ex post facto as bill of attainder. The judgment of the Court below is reversed, with directions that the plaintiff shall depart without delay.

Associate Justice Field also delivered an opinion in the case of Garland and Morrell who after taking part in the rebellion, ask to be readmitted to practice. The court held that as the statutes imposes punishment which was not imposed at the time the offense was committed it is in the nature of an ex post facto law. Attorneys are not officers of the United States, they are officers of courts and hold their office during good behavior. A court is not a register of the edict of any power. The applicants obtained pardon from the President, which relieves them from the consequences of their offenses and makes them citizens in the eyes of the law what they were before the offense was committed. Congress cannot limit the prerogative of mercy. It cannot be allowed by the Legislature. It followed that the prayer of petitioner must be granted, and also that the prayer of Morrell which requires attorneys to take the test oath must be restrained.

Associate Justice Miller for himself, Chief Justice and Associates Swayne and Davis, read dissenting opinions maintaining that practice in a court and the privileges of attorneys are subject to legislation the same as judges. The law makes no distinction and requires all civil and military officers to take the same oath. Attorneys exert a marked influence in the character of the Government. If all attorneys in the South had been faithful to the allegiance they are required to swear, we should have been spared the horrors of rebellion. It was not claimed by the majority of the court that law works attainder of blood. Therefore this is not an attainder, nor does it appear that any indicted person or persons who arrayed themselves in hostility to the Government and gave aid and comfort to the enemy forfeited the right to appear in court. This was not a criminal but civil proceeding which effected private rights respectively. In regard to the Missouri case the question involved rested with the State. The constitutional restriction that Congress shall make no law abridging the freedom of religion was not applicable. Justice Story says the whole power was left to the State to be exercised according to its judgment. The Constitution of Missouri says that no such persons as described, shall exercise their functions unless they show their loyalty. Proceedings were made in support of these points.

Colorado and Nebraska.

NEW YORK, Jan 14.—A Washington special says it is doubtful whether the Nebraska and Colorado bills will pass the House. The Nebraska bill was yesterday under consideration for two hours, during which time Messrs Broomall, Ashley, Stokum, Bingham, Wilson, Shellabarger, Dawes, Blow, Hill, Morrill, Elliott and Banks took part in the discussion. All the speeches except that of Broomall were very brief. Ashley controlling the floor and yielding to various gentlemen for five minutes to each. The House was in much confusion all the while, members crowding down to aisles and alleys near Ashley in such a manner that the Speaker was obliged on three or four occasions to suspend business and direct gentlemen to take their seats. The debate chiefly turned on Edmunds' amendment. Two or three members expressed themselves opposed to admitting Nebraska at all with her present population, but most of the speakers were willing to let her in if they could be sure the amendment would accomplish the purpose desired by its supporters. The discussion was of legal character and showed a wide difference of opinion among the leading lawyers on the Republican side relative to the binding effect of the clause. Messrs Wilson, Stevens, Dawes and others held that it could not be enforced anywhere. Mr. Shellabarger and others took the ground that it would be enforced not only by courts but by Congress. The speech of Mr Shellabarger was perhaps the most convincing delivered. He had the floor for twelve minutes, and while he spoke nearly all the leading members gathered in the seats and aisle in his immediate neighborhood. The previous question was called by Mr Ashley at half past four and the demand was sustained by one majority. Yeas 68, noes 67.

Freedmen's Contracts.

NEW YORK, Jan 14.—The Herald's Richmond dispatch says that the freedmen are almost all unwilling to work, by contract during the present year. This is also the case throughout most of the Southern States, others preferring a share in the crops.

Cuban Affairs

NEW YORK, Jan 13.—The Havana correspondent of the 7th says that the whole capital of the Banco Espanol has been disposed of and $1,370,000 over and above it. There are two millions in circulation besides. The people entertain strong doubts of the financial future of the Island and many predict general bankruptcy.

Troops Leaving Mexico

NEW YORK, Jan 14.—The Tribune's special says that the Government has received information from Vera Cruz that several transports had arrived and the troops have commenced embarking. There are twenty four large transports which will be sufficient to remove all the troops. It is expected that all will have embarked by the first of March.

The Territorial Government Scheme

NEW YORK, Jan 14.—The Tribune's special says that on Tuesday Mr Stevens will call up his Enabling Act and endeavor to press it to a vote Wednesday. [illegible] received from large numbers of loyal men in the South say they prefer this bill to that proposed by Gov Holden and Poole. On Tuesday Mr Ashley will present a bill agreed upon by the Territorial Committee as a substitute for Mr Stevens' bill.

Election of Senators.

CHICAGO, Jan 15.—Senators will be elected to-day, namely: in New York Roscoe Conkling; in Pennsylvania Simon Cameron; in Maryland Thos. Swann; in Indiana O. P. Morton; in Illinois L. Trumbull.

Rebels Accepting the Situation

NEW YORK, Jan 15.—The Herald's Richmond special says Gen. Rosser and Henry A. Wise addressed the citizens of Richmond last evening, on the subject of relief of the widows of Confederate soldiers. Both expressed the opinion that rebellion had still a fair prospect of success. Wise said he would never give up. The South was sublimely united. He particularly desired to be buried in a grey overcoat when his time should come.

Miscellaneous News

NEW YORK, Jan 15.—The Commissioners of Pilots have forbidden participation by any pilots of this harbor in a proposed race across the Atlantic between pilot boats; therefore the match between the J. D. Jones and Hope for $5,000 has been abandoned.

DENVER, Jan 14.—The Legislature have adjourned until Friday. Resolutions against making Colorado a State after having been previously voted down passed the House in the absence of several who were sick. The Council passed a resolution asking the President to relieve Gov Cummings, charged with malfeasance.

The negroes are rejoicing over the action of Congress granting impartial suffrage. Two hundred signed a petition favoring the admission of Nebraska under Edmunds's amendment.

Forty armed mounted men deserted last week from Fort Morgan and are reported on the way to Denver to rob the city banks and Wells, Fargo & Co.'s Express.

NEW YORK, Jan 15.—A special from Toronto says that in Court yesterday Thomas Maxwell and James Burke, Fenians, were found guilty of levying war against Her Majesty's Government. Havenough pleaded guilty to the same indictment. Sentence in all the cases were deferred.

Gen. Marshal has received word that confederation would be sanctioned if the people understood it and he was anxious to submit the bill to them. A petition has been forwarded asking the disbandment of the Regiment of St. Peter on the ground of its Fenian tendency.

BY ATLANTIC CABLE

PESTH, Jan 1[illegible].—NOON.—Duke Francis has issued an address condemning the patent lately issued for the reorganization of the army. He says the carrying out of the scheme will certainly prove fatal to the arrangement of present difficulties and urges the Emperor to concede the claims of Hungary.

LONDON, Jan 14th, evening.—Consols closed at 90 for money; 5-20s 72¾.

FLORENCE, Jan 14th.—The difficulty between Italy and Turkey relating to the firing into an Italian steamer is likely to be amicably adjusted. The amount of indemnity to be paid by the Turkish Government is not fixed.

PARIS, Jan 14th.—Rumors are afloat that a desperate plot to assassinate Emperor Napoleon was discovered and frustrated by the police. 5-20s 7[illegible].

ST. PETERSBURG, Jan 14th.—The Czar of Russia has ordered a General Amnesty for all offenses committed by newspapers of the Empire.

BERNE, Jan 14th.—The Swiss Government has under consideration a proposition to prohibit the people of Switzerland from joining the Pope's army.

LIVERPOOL, Jan 14th.—The ship Thomas Humphreys, hence for New York, was lost near Holyhead. All on board except the Captain and one man were drowned.

MADRID, Jan 14th.—The Revolutionary Junta having its headquarters here has issued a stirring address to the people.

OUR SAN FRANCISCO DISPATCH

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan 14th.—The opposition steamship America is hourly expected to arrive at this port and the usual precautions have been taken to prevent a spread of the cholera supposed to be on board. Collector Miller has placed the steam cutter Wyanda under the orders of Dr. Elliott, the Quarantine officer, who has given orders for stopping all steamships or steam vessels, except Government vessels coming into this port from any port south of the Southern lines of this State, and to allow no boat to pass to or from such ships or vessels. Dr. Raymond, the agent of the Nicaragua line of steamers in this city has received a telegram from W. H. Webb, President of the Company, in New York, stating that there had been but thirty five cholera deaths on the Isthmus among outward bound passengers and there had been no new cases reported on the day the steamer left for New York and that the disease was subsiding.

The United States Grand Jury presented bills of indictment as follows: James Cartell, second mate of the bark Swallow, two indictments for stabbing a man and also for striking another man with a handspike; Richard Guzman, the refractory sailor of the ship Reynard, for an assault with a deadly weapon on the Captain John H. Stevens and Jesse Afery.

First and second mates of the ship Shatemuc for beating seamen were arraigned before Judge Hoffman this morning, and pleaded not guilty.

During a recent trip of the steamship Pacific from Portland to this port Mary Rooney, a Spanish woman, one of the passengers, was robbed of $2,600 in coin.

Money Market

Gold in New York to-day 131[illegible]; legal tenders, 74c.

Shipping

Arrived—Jan 12.—Steamer Del Norte, 24 hours from Eureka. 13th, bark Cambridge, 19 days from Honolulu.

Sailed—Jan 13th.—Bark Flora, Rio de Janeiro. 14th, bark Glimpse, Puget Sound; bark Legal Tender, Puget Sound; Prussian bark Gundia, Cook, Hamburg; bark Joachim Christian, Cork.

KOOTENAI.—The Walla Walla Statesman says: Several parties have come in from the Kootenai country during the last week. They report that mining operations had been suspended for the winter. The work on the "big shaft," from which so much has been expected, had stopped owing to the water wheel freezing fast. The winter in the Kootenai country had been unusually mild, and miners are calculating upon an early spring. Provisions were in rather short supply and as a consequence prices are ruling high.—Flour was quoted at $50 per hundred, Bacon at $1 per pound and other articles in proportion. About five hundred persons would winter in the mines, three fifths of these are Chinamen. The gentleman from whom we derive the above, expresses the opinion, that during the last season Kootenai yielded at least one third more gold than in any former year. He is sanguine that the coming season will show a still larger yield. From their position, these mines must necessarily draw their supplies from this Valley and hence we are directly interested in their development.

NORTHWESTERN INDIANS TO BE SENT TO THE PARIS EXHIBITION.—It has been definitely stated that a large delegation from the Northwestern tribes of Indians are to be sent as a contribution from the United States to the Exposition at Paris. The party will consist of 38 men, eight squaws and six children, they will carry with them their war and agricultural implements, and will form the only contribution from the inland States to the tenth group within the limits of the exposition. They will leave New York about the 10th of March. The Imperial Commission has made the most urgent request through Commissioner General Beckwith to our Government that there should be such a representation of our aborigines.

MESSRS. STONE & NORMAN have just received per late steamer a new lot of MEERSCHAUM PIPES, also a large addition to their extensive stock of Cigars and Tobacco. N. E. corner of First and Washington streets.

NE PLUS ULTRA.—KOHN & FISHEL are about selling off all their dry goods, ladies shoes and everything in that line far below cost, and will hereafter keep nothing but the best and most stylish clothing manufactured, being determined to be the first-class clothiers of Oregon.

NEW TO-DAY.

SUMMONS.—IN THE CIRCUIT COURT OF THE State of Oregon for the county of Multnomah. S[illegible]—Virginia Francis Rogers, Plaintiff, vs. Orvill R. Rogers, defendant.—[Stamp 50 cents cancelled]—To Orvill R. Rogers defendant: In the name of the State of Oregon you are hereby required to appear within ten days after the service of this summons upon you if served in the county of Multnomah, and if served in any other county of this State then within twenty days after such service, and answer the complaint filed against you in the above entitled suit, praying that the bonds of matrimony existing between you and the plaintiff be dissolved, and you are hereby notified that unless you so appear and answer the plaintiff will apply to the court for the relief demanded in said complaint. A Rare Opportunity
Is offered the
STOCK MEN OF OREGON!!
The Stallion Colt
BROWNLOW

Is offered for sale: he was four years old in March last, is sixteen hands high, weighs eleven hundred pounds, his color brown with black points, no marks, has proved himself a good and sure foal getter.

His pedigree is as follows: Sire Paul Jones; dam Jane McKenzie; 2d dam Hippy, by Tom Benton, by American Eclipse, out of Miller's Damsel, by imported Messenger; 3d dam Aunty Caldwell's Tranby, by imported Tranby; 4th dam by Woodpecker; 5th dam, by Telamachus.

Jane McKenzie, the dam of Brownlow, received the first premium for thorough bred mares at the State Fair of Oregon in 1865. Brownlow received three first premiums for colts of his class the same year, and has been pronounced by COMPETENT judges the best roadster stallion ever raised on the Pacific coast. His style and action is magnificent.

He may be seen for a short time at the Black Hawk Stable, Portland, Oregon, where any further information may be learned by applying to G. Cook.

The dam of Brownlow is also offered for sale.

A petition was read from the proprietors of the Willamette Iron Works McCraken Merrill & Co on North Front, First and Second Streets, for the erection of a fire hydrant at the corner of D and North First streets. Referred to the Committee on Fire and Water

A petition was received from L. Richardson for a license to sell liquor at the corner of Front and Madison Streets. Laid on the table

A communication was received from Thomas J Bulger representing that in August last while engaged in calking the Dredger, he was directed by Mr Walker the Engineer, to suspend his work on account of the shrinking of the planking; that he did so suspend the work; that in consequence, he did not then complete his contract; that the work of calking now, on account of bad weather and the greasy condition of the decks will be much more expensive than it would have been if he had been permitted to go on with his job in the summer. The petitioner asks for such relief as the nature of the case may seem in the judgment of the Council, to demand. The petition was referred to the Committee on River Improvements

REPORTS OF COMMITTEES.

The Committee on Health and Police, to whom was referred the petition of Richard Sorter for remission of a fine imposed by the Recorder's Court reported in favor of remitting $20 of the fine. The report was adopted and a warrant for that amount was ordered to be drawn against the Recorder's Court fund

The Committee on River Improvements to whom had been referred the recommendations of the Dredger Engineer in relation to calking and repairing the dredger and scows reported that they had fully examined into the matter and procured the estimates of a competent mechanic as to the cost of calking and repairs. The estimated cost of calking is placed at $725 and cost of the repairs suggested, $28. The report recommended that the work for which the estimates are made be ordered to be done. Report ordered filed

REPORTS OF OFFICERS

The Surveyor, C W Burrage, in accordance with instructions, submitted a report of the estimated cost of grading and constructing side walks on the east and west sides of block 132—$416 21. The Surveyor reported that Mr Hayden had filled a portion of one side without any remuneration and estimated the value of such filling at $38 62, which, if the city should conclude to pay for, would be added to the estimate as above. The report was referred to the Committee on Streets and Public Property.

CLAIMS AGAINST THE CITY

Two witnesses in the case of the City vs Michael Carr, claimed each $1 50. Ordered paid

Bill of Oregon Iron Works for work furnished the Fire Department, $12 65, referred to the Committee on Streets and Public Property

H. L. Pittock for advertising $16 75 ordered paid

On account of Dredger the following bills were ordered paid E. J Northrup & Co, sundries, $3 27, William Pinter, brooms $3 00 and buck saw $2 00, E. J Northrup & Co, sundries, $28 70, O S. N Co for use of steamer Ohio three days, $75 00.

O. H Myer, for hydrant, $15 32; lamp posts pipe, sundries and repairs, three bills amounting to $117 76. The bill for hydrant referred to the Committee on Fire and Water, the others laid on the table being against funds, appropriations for which are exhausted

READING OF ORDINANCES

The ordinance providing for the time and manner of grading for and constructing side and cross walks on the east and west side of block 132, came up for the third reading.

Mr. Lowndsdale moved to fill the blank—time for completing the side walk on the west side—with the 15th February and the other, for the east side with 15th March, which prevailed.

The Mayor said that no member of the board had raised any question upon this bill, but he would call the attention of the Council to rule 20, without however making any ruling upon it

Mr. Lowndsdale read the rule which relates to the reconsideration of questions lost, and remarked that he could not conceive how the rule affected the bill as it was distinctly a new bill as compared with the one lately vetoed by the Mayor and lost in the Council.

The Mayor stated the question upon the passage of the bill when the vote resulted as follows

Yeas—Messrs. Carson, Carter, Lowndsdale, O'Connor and Rosenheim—5.

Nays—Messrs. Hallock and Zeiber—2.

Absent—Messrs Fechheimer and McCraken—2.

So the bill passed

PROPOSITIONS AND MOTIONS

Mr. Hallock offered a resolution providing that on and after the 25th January, the Council will hold its regular meetings on Friday evening of each week. The resolution was adopted.

The Council adjourned.

MINES OF OREGON AND WASHINGTON TERRITORY.—In the general review of mining operations for 1866, on the Pacific slope, in the Mercantile Gazette and Prices Current, of January 9th, we find the following in relation to the mines of Washington Territory and Oregon. "But little of moment would seem to have been accomplished the past year in Washington Territory. In the early spring quite an excitement prevailed, being a revival of that extant the previous year, in regard to rich diggings having been found about the Big Bend of the Columbia, in what is known as the Kootenai country, and an emigration carrying some several thousand miners set that way. But late accounts seem to indicate that the season has failed to turn out propitious in Kootenai, the greater part of these adventurers having left, with but moderate earnings, for more genial regions, the winters there setting in early. The total amount extracted from that district for the current year is estimated at about $400,000, being the earnings of some five or six hundred men. Rumored discoveries of gold having been made in the Cascade range, about Fort Colville, and elsewhere in this Territory, have from time to time obtained currency, but they appear to have rested on a rather slight foundation, no discoveries in this line worth recording having happened, and the yearly bullion product of the country being very inconsiderable. The placers of Oregon make a better exhibit than those of her Northern neighbor, the diggings on John Day River alone being set down for $1,500,000, with smaller but very respectable contributions, from other mining quarters. About Althouse and Jacksonville the diggings, long distinguished for their munificent returns, continue to uphold their ancient reputation, further discoveries of paying ravines being occasionally made. A rich and extensive placer deposit has recently been found in this vicinity, being situate upon an old [illegible] formation, now elevated some three hundred feet above tide water. It is near the mouth of the Coquille river and about forty miles north of the famous Gold Bluff, of speculative memory, now the scene of some feeble beach washings, carried on by a small company of men whose labors, though fairly rewarded, seem but a sorry representation of the grand expectations that were entertained of this spot at an early day. While there are many valuable quartz veins in this section of Oregon, several of which have been made to pay well, worked with [illegible], the attempts at developing this species of mines in the Santiam District, situated in Cascade range further North, have issued in disappointment, the rock [illegible] failing to pay, but whether because of its poverty or intractible nature has not yet been determined to the satisfaction of parties most interested."

THE [illegible] SEWERS.—Every time that a heavy rain has fallen this winter, it has been demonstrated that the sewer drains in this city are too small. The rain of yesterday produced streams of water of considerable magnitude, in all the surface drains, which running down to the water basins, choked them up, and in many places the water spread over considerable portions of the streets and crossings, forming a rather vexatious impediment to foot passengers. If the sewers are ever to [illegible] the full purposes of their construction, it will be found [illegible] to make the receiving basins larger, and to enlarge some of the main trunks of sewers. The average capacity of the sewers leading to the river is not over four hundred and eighty inches, each. This may be sufficient to carry off all ordinary falls of rain, but when we have such rains as we had yesterday, the accumulated waters from all the cross streets, prove too much for them. The sewers ought to have been made, at least two by four feet, with water basins and throats to correspond. The additional expense of constructing them at first, as they should be, would prove less than it will cost to reconstruct them after a while as it will be found necessary to do [illegible] ABOUT CHOLERA.—The telegraphic reports from New York announce the prevalence of cholera at San Juan del Sur, and the death of several persons at sea, between Greytown and New York, on board the San Francisco. Several deaths had occurred at San Juan del Sur, but the disease had at the latest news, abated. Very naturally, the expected arrival at San Francisco, of the soldiers and passengers, among whom the cholera had prevailed, created a considerable sensation and [illegible] sanitary measures were being taken when the Oriflamme left, to prevent the introduction of the disease into the city. This news from the lower coast has already given rise to the habitual uneasiness here which always exists when there is even a remote prospect of the approach of the dreaded scourge. There is nothing, [illegible] in the reports which need to communicate any fears that the disease will reach this Northern latitude. It seems to have broken out among the soldiers at San Juan del Sur, simply and only as the result of imprudent eating and drinking. At San Francisco, no vessel from below will be permitted to land till it be ascertained that she has not any cholera on board. In the report of the arrival of the Montana from Panama, on the 12th, there is no reference whatever to cholera.

DISCHARGED.—James A Murray who was mentioned, yesterday morning as having been arrested the evening before on suspicion of dealing dishonestly with U S [illegible], was brought before the Recorder yesterday. The charge book shows that he was arrested on suspicion of being concerned in the greenback robbery of Major Quinn at Fort Boise, last fall but no evidence appearing to justify the suspicion, he was discharged

DAMAGE.—The heavy rain fall of yesterday did considerable damage to the new embankment in the ravine at the old bridge on Front street. The water of the Montgomery street sewer burst from its confines and running down either side of Front, discharged itself upon the bank filling, washing away considerable portions of it into the river

BILLIARDS.—The match game of billiards between Jas A. Murray and Isaac Foster, which was prevented on Wednesday evening by the arrest of the former, will be played to-night at the Capital billiard rooms above the What Cheer Hotel. The game is 500 points for $250 a side.

COMMITTED FOR EXAMINATION.—John Duly who lives on the McAdamized road near the Fulton House, was arrested yesterday upon a warrant issued by Recorder [illegible], on a charge of assault with intent to kill one Louis Schaffer. He will have an examination on Saturday morning.

ARRESTED.—A half-breed named Wm Chance was arrested yesterday, while amusing himself with swinging a large knife and frightening some children. His case will be heard this morning.

A BIG GUN.—We yesterday noticed a large ship's gun on the wharf which it was said is to be shipped by the Oriflamme to San Francisco to be put on board the steamship Oregonian. It is a large one for the display purposes of a ship, although nearly eight feet in length with a six inch bore. We were informed that it belonged to Mr Ladd and has been in the warehouse for nearly a year

ABANDONED.—We learn that the city [illegible] which last spring figured somewhat extensively as a rival of White Bluffs [illegible]

TELEGRAPH DIRECTORS ELECTED.—The annual meeting of the stockholders of the [illegible] State Telegraph Co occurred on Wednesday. We have not learned who are the new Directors. Mr Gamble is elected Superintendent instead of Mr Ladd. Mr Gamble was the first Superintendent of the line.

HELD TO ANSWER.—S H Stephens and James Fountain two colored men yesterday had an examination before Recorder Hoffman on a charge of selling liquor to Indians and were held to answer at the next term of the Circuit Court. Bail was fixed at $500 each.

WILLAMETTE FREIGHTS.—Arrived per Alert Jan 14th 1400 quarter sacks flour, 1 coop chickens, 1 coop chickens and geese, 1 half bbl, 1 bale woolen goods, 130 boxes apples

SENT TO JAIL.—Joe Andrews an Indian who got gloriously drunk and disorderly on Third street Wednesday night was yesterday sentenced to two days in jail

Agassiz on Man.

The Boston correspondent of the Sacramento Union writes

The closing lecture of Professor Agassiz's course was the most interesting of the series, and I venture to send you a brief report thereof. You are aware that he is a stout champion of the theory that different races of men have different origins, and in this lecture he took occasion to express his peculiar views. The discussion, he said, was not agreeable, because it obliged him to announce his dissent from the doctrine generally received by the Christian world of the unity of the races. A careful examination of facts would show that this doctrine was erroneous. The offspring of representatives of two races never resemble either parent, and this fact justified the inference that the different human races bear to each other the same relation that is borne by different species of animals, and that all have different origins. The unity of the races cannot be established historically, and in default of proof to this end we must accept the conclusion deduced from the investigations of naturalists. If a plan of variation and succession could be traced through all ages, instead of regarding diversity as the result of accident, we should recognize it as evidence of a thinking mind in the whole creation, and regard ourselves as the children of God, not as the children of monkeys. He placed the monkey tribe as highest of the quadrupedal mammalia, and as next to man, but he could not approve the theory of the final transformation of monkeys into men, and was unwilling to admit that men are descendants from the highest monkeys

The Professor stated many other interesting facts in natural history, a few of which may be read with interest. There are no humming birds found upon earth except on the American continent, in South America there are hundreds of varieties of these birds. Birds of the most brilliant plumage are the poorest singers. In the tropical regions the host of fur animals that inhabit the North is without representatives, except in multitudes of skunks of different varieties. Evidences had been found that the elephant, rhinoceros and megatherium (the latter a genus of itself), had once existed in this country

CAPTURE AND ESCAPE OF A WHITE WOMAN FROM INDIANS.—The Leavenworth correspondent of the New York Times, gives the following account of the capture and escape of Miss Sarah Jane Luster. At the time of her capture she was residing in Texas, with a family by the name of Babb. During the absence of Mr. Babb, some months since, a band of No con ab Comanches came to the house. They were invited by the children of Mrs Babb, but refused until they were satisfied there were no men about, then they entered, and savage-like, attempted to carry off one of the children. The tender heart of the mother, inspired by the love of her little one, made bold to resist this fiendish cruelty, and she clung to her child with desperation. This maddened them. One seized her by the hair, drew her back and cut her throat. The bloody deed was enacted under the eye of Miss Luster, who had taken refuge in the upper part of the cabin. Overcome by the horrid spectacle, she unconsciously gave a groan, which led to the discovery of her presence. She was unceremoniously captured, together with two children, were taken to the Indian camp; the third child, an infant, was left in the cabin. Miss Luster, preferring death to captivity, heroically planned means of escape. She discovered a horse of great speed, kept for racing purposes by the Indians, and conceived the plan to mount and leave in a direction from which the Indians had brought green corn, after a six days' absence, thus showing a settlement within three day's ride.—Her first attempt at escape was frustrated by the barking of the dogs, which compelled her to retire to her lodge. A dark and stormy night, when both dogs and savages were within doors, favored her second effort. The accommodations not being sufficient for both of the children, she took the eldest, a boy, mounted the horse and left. The first day and night exhausted the boy, and he was left to perish by the roadside, or to find his way back. After three days and nights of continuous riding, having become completely prostrated with anxiety and fatigue, she tied the horse by a lariat to her body and laid down for rest, but the awakening from a troubled sleep was only to remind her that she was once more a captive. This time the Kiowas proved to be the captors, but she was taken to their camp only to reorganize her projects of escape. Watching her opportunity, once more her chosen steed bore her from the scenes of captivity, and after days of weary travel and nights of sleepless anxiety, she reached the Santa Fe road, sixty miles east of Cow Creek, Col. Leavenworth's headquarters. The Kiowas immediately reported her escape to Col Leavenworth, while a white man who had seen her at the ranche confirmed the report. An escort was detailed by the Colonel with orders for bringing her to Council Grove. Miss Luster, together with another liberated captive named John Charles Fremont Houston, are at Council Grove now.—The latter was captured by a small band of Yan a Gway Camanches, or lice eaters, and was rescued from them by Yab-a man-a ca, head chief of one of the Yam per ne ker, or root eaters, and delivered by him to Col Leavenworth, from whom I learn that both of these escaped captives are en route to this city.

THE FAMINE IN INDIA.—The Rev. J Buckly, stationed at Cuttack, Orissa, writes

Orphans have been brought dying to our door, and many that have been received have been too deeply famine stricken for nursing and medicine to restore. After a few short days death has closed the scene. Tender and delicate women lying in our verandah have implored rice, or money to purchase it, with cries that have pierced our hearts. Two cases of eating human flesh have been reported, in one case it was proved that the person was insane, in the other the child was found eating its dead father's flesh, which had been roasted, and a few days after the child died. Mothers have left their children in the maidan (dung hill) to die, or have sold them for a few pice. In one case an only son was sold for a pint of milk. The mother eagerly drank it, gave up her child, walked a few steps, and then dropped down dead. The dying and the dead have been seen lying in our streets though this has not been the case so much at Cuttack as at Balasore and other places. At Pooree it has been common for the police to find morning after morning, in the streets and lanes, sixty, seventy, eighty, or more corpses! In the Cuttack district 3000 deaths from famine and pestilence were reported in one week and it is generally believed that at Balasore and Pooree the distress has been severer than here

COLLEGES IN OREGON.—We find the following in the New York letter of the Sacramento Union, under date of Dec 12th

We had a meeting in Madison Street Presbyterian Church last evening to hear and consider the subject of collegiate education in Oregon. Unfortunately, the enterprise falls under the head of that class of good works for which I had occasion to express my commiseration in a preceding paragraph. It was appointed for an evening when it would have been a moral impossibility to have "drawn" a large congregation, even though the subject presented had been one very much nearer to the hearts and homes of our people than Oregon. The "faithful few, however, were present and there was an interesting talk but the one thing needful (I mean in building and supporting colleges) I fear was not there. Among the gentlemen present to address the meeting were the Rev Drs Adams Hitchcock and Hopkins of this city George H Williams, United States Senator from Oregon, and Dr Marsh President of the college in Oregon on behalf of which an appeal was made. After the commencement of the usual evening services, the Rev Dr Adams, pastor of the church, briefly addressed the meeting

A NEW ISLAND.—The St. Joseph (Mo.) Herald chronicles one of the peculiar results of the action of the current of the Missouri river on its banks and on its sandy bottom. An island has been formed in the river directly opposite St. Joseph, the channel running between the island and the Missouri shore. Although a vast belt of sand over two [illegible] in length should it withstand the flood [illegible] it may soon be covered with a growth of trees. An immense drift has formed at the upper end, which it is believed will protect it from the rush of water and make it permanent. The other day two citizens of St. Joseph passed over to the island took possession of it and erected a cabin there, which they hold will give them the first claim to entry when Government places it in market

DRAKE'S PLANTATION BITTERS

Have been of great service in making people healthy and keeping them so. They should be found in every household

They give tone to the Stomach, vigor to the body and remove dark troubles and unhappy feelings from the mind. They relieve pain and fortify the whole system against the attacks of disease

There is no thing better to take "for the Stomach sake" than the PLANTATION BITTERS

They cure Dyspepsia Heartburn Indigestion Drowsiness Headache, Pain in the Side, Liver Complaint and Rheumatic Pains with magical power

A good effect is felt at once upon making the first trial. No change of diet is necessary. Eat the best you can get and all you want. Follow our directions and you will soon feel

WELL STRONG AND HEARTY

A great many side hits are being made at the Plantation Bitters by a score or two of disinterested friends who are endeavored to imitate or counterfeit them. It's all of no use. The people won't be imposed upon. The Plantation Bitters are increasing in use and popularity every day and "that's what's the matter." They are the same sized bottle and made just as they were at first, and will continue to be, or we shall stop making them

They create a healthy appetite
They are an antidote to change of water and diet
They overcome effects of dissipation and late hours
They strengthen the system and enliven the mind
They prevent miasmatic and intermittent fevers
They purify the breath and acidity of the stomach
They cure Dyspepsia and Constipation
They cure Diarrhoea, Cholera and Cholera Morbus.
They cure Liver Complaint and Nervous Headache

They are the best Bitters in the world. They make the weak strong and are exhausted nature's great restorer. The Recipe and full Circular are around each bottle. Clergymen, Merchants, and persons whose sedentary habits induce weakness, lassitude, palpitation of the heart, lack of appetite, distress after eating liver complaint constipation, &c will find immediate and permanent relief in these Bitters. But above all, they are recommended to weak and delicate females and mothers

They are sold by all respectable merchants. See that each bottle has our private United States Stamp over the cork and steel plate side label.

Beware of refilled bottles. See that the stamp has not been tampered with. Any person pretending to sell Plantation Bitters by the gallon is a swindler and impostor, and should be immediately reported to us

Mustang Liniment.

OVER A MILLION DOLLARS SAVED!

Gentlemen.—"I had a negro man worth $1,200 who took cold from a bad hurt in the leg, and was useless for over a year. I had used everything I could hear of without benefit until I tried the Mexican Mustang Liniment. It soon effected a permanent cure."
J L DOWNING.
Montgomery, Ala., June 17, 1859

"I take pleasure in recommending the Mexican Mustang Liniment as a valuable and indispensable article for Sprains Sores, Scratches or Galls on Horses. Our men have used it for Burns Bruises, Sores, Rheumatism, &c, and all say it acts like magic. J W HEWITT, Foreman American, Wells, Fargo's and Harnden's Express.

"The sprain of my daughter's ankle, occasioned while skating last winter was entirely cured in one week after she commenced using your celebrated Mustang Liniment.
Gloucester Mass Aug 1, 1865 ED SEELY"

It is an admitted fact that the Mexican Mustang Liniment performs more cures in shorter time, on man and beast, than any article ever discovered. Families, livery men and planters should always have it on hand. Quick and sure it certainly is. All genuine is wrapped in steel plate engravings bearing U S Stamp of DEMAS BARNES & Co over the top.

An effort has been made to counterfeit it with a cheap stone-plate label. Look closely!

Lyon's Katharion.

It is a most delightful Hair Dressing
It eradicates scurf and dandruff
It keeps the head cool and clean.
It makes the hair rich, soft and glossy
It prevents hair turning gray and falling off
It restores hair upon prematurely bald heads

This is just what Lyon's Katharion will do. It is pretty—it is cheap—durable. It is literally sold by the car load, and yet its almost incredible demand is daily increasing until there is hardly a country store that does not keep it, or a family that does not use it

The undersigned, who has always enjoyed public confidence for the excellent quality of his Coffee, neglects nothing to justify the good name acquired by his productions, the sale of which daily increases. The acknowledged superiority of his merchandise which commands here, and in the markets of the interior, a relatively higher price, excites the cupidity of some manufacturers and every day he sees increasing the number of those who by counterfeit or imitation of his mark seek to deceive the public, palming upon them their inferior productions for the genuine G VENARD CHARTRES COFFEE. This fraud can deceive nobody after a trial, but only adds to the favorable opinion of the consumers, the very flattering though unwilling testimony of the counterfeiters. Nevertheless, buyers should be forewarned, and placed on their guard against this practice

My Answer.

I am a widow—grief and care
Have worn the furrows deeply in my face
Thick are the threads of silver in my hair
And my poor feeble limbs can hardly trace
The Good Book's wonders from place to place
As eyes and thoughts go wandering everywhere

Little I know of politics or laws—
Had women made them there had been no strife—
No deeds half done no patching up of flaws
With the heart's blood of many a noble life
No promises unkept or treasons rife
To clog the feet of Freedom's holy cause

They tell me wicked men are plotting still
Their schemes of ruin and that good men lend
A thoughtless ear to mischief and to ill—
For now, they cry let every difference end
And they who should a worthless cause defend Turn and reject it with a stubborn will

I will not weep and yet I cannot take
My grief in silence smother all my fears
Men say we moan at trifles—I will make
My humble answer, and through struggling tears,
Pray that my words fall not on heedless ears
Mothers hear with me for your children's sake

There are two graves upon the Southern plains
Far far apart perhaps and overgrown
With the rank grasses where the summer rains
Blot out the letters on each time-worn stone
If there be any—I am all alone
No one to call me "Mother" now remains

They rise before me now, my precious dead!
Their faces beautiful with Christian peace,
Those lips which yearned for mine when they had said
Their dying prayers, and waited for release,
Nor did they murmur then that life must cease,
Who had not cowered by the way, nor fled

And yet I glory and do offer praise
That I had sons to give at such a time,
Their feet ran early in the righteous ways
Of Justice and of Freedom—truths sublime
Were their first lessons and in manhood's prime
They loved the precepts learned in early days

But can it be that this was all in vain?
Were these two nameless graves heaped up for naught?
Must I, when thinking of my children slain,
Bewail the love of country which I taught?
Losing by this the only thing which brought
Comfort and gladness to me in my pain?

Must we obey and follow the commands
Of men my boys faced on the battle-field?
Our nation turn or falter where she stands?
Into their trust her hard earned treasures yield?
How can we reverence laws which they have sealed,
And with our children's blood upon their hands?

We, who in wakeful hours of the night
Hear voices calling from the silence deep!
Or shivering by our flickering firelight
Listen for footsteps—and can only weep!
Those dungeons still their horrid secrets keep,
In lonely graves our children's bones are white.

Oh, wretched, wretched country! If it needs
To take rebellious children to its heart,
And to be schooled anew in sinful creeds,
Which tear the laws of God and man apart
What glorious harvests from the earth shall start
If unrepenting rebels sow the seeds!

Oh, loyal women! 'tis to you I speak—
And some of you have shed more tears than I—
Your prayers were faithful when man's soul was weak,
When armies wavered and defeat seemed nigh,
He is not dead who gave us victory,
Let us again his aid and favor seek.

Men of New England! of the East, the West,
Whose mighty wills no slavish thought can tame,
Grasp hands and onward! Falter not nor rest,
Till the good cause all hands and hearts can claim,
He who 'mid changes is unchanged, the same,
Will bless your work who do his high behest.

Curious Discoveries in Minnesota.

[Correspondence New York Herald.]

ST. ANTHONY, Minnesota, December 3, 1866—The monotony of our quiet little town has been considerably disturbed of late by discoveries of a most curious and remarkable nature, which have been made within a few days past in our midst. They are of so singular a character as to be beyond the pale of credence in the minds of almost every one who has not been a witness to the facts in the case, but they are vouched for by citizens of such known respectability and veracity, that the genuineness of the statements in regard to them is placed beyond a doubt.

A Mr. Reuben Nesmith, who lives in a small house, near the German Catholic Church, had occasion to go down into the cellar on the evening of the 1st instant, to arrange a place for his winter stock of potatoes which he had been hauling the day before from his farm about two miles beyond Manomin. While engaged in putting together a temporary bin, and while digging to make room for the timber used in constructing it, his shovel came in contact with a plate of iron, which after being cleared of earth proved to be a trap door, which was secured by a curiously wrought lock, with heavy bolts running into a stone beneath. It was so much corroded by rust that a little pressure with the crowbar caused the plate to give way, and upon taking it up an opening was discovered, beneath which a spiral stone staircase led down into the earth. Before venturing down this staircase, Mr. Nesmith communicated the fact of his discovery to his brother in law Mr Luther Chamberlain, and having procured a lantern, the two proceeded to descend, and after going down one hundred and twenty-three steps, they found themselves in a narrow horizontal passage, dug in the white sand, which, as every one familiar with the geological formation of the banks of the Upper Mississippi knows, underlies a strata of limestone. Proceeding along this passage a distance of about seventy-five feet, they emerged into a spacious artificial cave, also excavated in this white sand. This cave was of an oblong form, and leading out of it were several small chambers, all of which gave signs of having been at some former day, occupied as depositories of some kind. Iron and copper implements of a rough kind of workmanship, were found scattered about, some of them evidently having been used for excavating purposes, others for cooking utensils, the marks of fire being observable on the latter. On entering one of the small anti-chambers a number of rude seats were found, and upon one side of the room an elevated platform, upon which stood a roughly hewn stone, something like the reading desk of an Episcopal Church. On the wall behind this desk, on either side of a colossal human figure, in base relief, very curious hieroglyphics were found traced in the white sand, and an ornamental tracery of peculiar design covered the other three sides of the chamber. In the next apartment a sort of stone sarcophagus was found, upon the top of which was laid an immense rock, firmly cemented to the burial case, and which required the united exertions of four men to remove. This being done, a human skeleton was found underneath, the bones of which crumbled to powder immediately upon exposure to the air. Several copper and iron rings were found in the sarcophagus, as also a curious silver ornament, octagonal in shape, and carved in unintelligible characters, some of which correspond with those upon the wall of the apartment above referred to.

A third chamber was very much larger in extent than the others, and the ceiling was very much like an inverted funnel in shape, directly under the apex of which was a large cube shaped stone, which was stained with marks of fire and some other dark substances, and a deposit of hardened ashes lay around it on the ground. It was evidently used as a sacrificial altar, and this theory seems to be confirmed by the fact that an aperture large enough to admit the body of a man opens from this apartment into a smaller one, the floor of which is covered with a limy powder, apparently the ashes of bones, whether human or otherwise cannot be ascertained. On continuing their explorations the party found an iron plate door, which easily gave way upon a little pressure, and a passage way about three feet in hight and large enough for one person to pass in a stooping posture, was discovered. Mr Nesmith and his brother-in-law followed this passage way, which led in a somewhat circuitous direction to the vicinity of the river. This is proved by the sound of water washing upon the shore, which may be distinctly heard at the end of the passage way, the outer opening to which has apparently been filled up from the inside with broken rocks, and through the interstices of which fresher air than that of the cave can be felt blowing at times.

The whole affair is a mystery. The relics found are not at all aboriginal in character and may have been the work of a people existing long before even these prairies were the hunting grounds of the Indians. Copies of the hieroglyphics have been carefully transcribed and forwarded to some of the most learned archæologists of the Eastern States, and it is hoped that they may be able to obtain some clue as to the origin and use of these remarkable relics. We understand that the State Historical Society has made Mr Nesmith a very liberal offer for them. In the meantime our little town is all agog as to the discoveries, and hundreds of people have visited the house of Mr Nesmith to see these remarkable antiquities. We trust the Historical Society may be able to secure them, as a most interesting addition to their small but valuable collection.

THE PRESIDENT ON HISTORY.—A Washington correspondent says a friend asked the President a few days ago whether his alleged remark about "losing his head like James II, was not a blunder of the reporter, rather than of the President himself. "Certainly it was, said Johnson, "the whole press of the country seems to be bought up to misrepresent what I said, and to make me appear ridiculous in the eyes of the world. I never said it was James II lost his head. It was Charles the II I spoke of!"

Six ex rebels were arrested at Griffin, Georgia, Dec 8th, by the United States Deputy Marshal, for violation of the Civil Rights Bill. They ordered a Union man to leave town in twenty four hours, under penalty of hanging.

A STUMPER TO THE SAINTS.—The Salt Lake Vedette of the 22d contains the following card, which explains itself:

To the Leaders of the Mormon Church—Gentlemen: As you are instructing the people of Utah through your bishops and missionaries, not to trade or do any business with the Gentile merchants thereby intimidating and coercing the community to purchase only of such merchants as belong to your faith or persuasion, therefore in anticipation of such a crisis being successfully brought about by your teachings, the undersigned Gentile merchants of Great Salt Lake City respectfully desire to make you the following propositions believing it to be your earnest desire for all to leave the country that do not belong to your creed or faith namely:

On the fulfillment of the conditions herein named first—The payment of our outstanding accounts owing us by members of your church.

Second—All of our goods, merchandise chattels, houses improvements etc to be taken at a cash valuation and we to make a deduction of twenty five per cent from total amount.

To the fulfillment of the above we hold ourselves ready, at any time, to enter into negotiations, and on final arrangements being made and terms of sale complied with we shall freely leave the Territory. Respectfully yours,

Signed—Gilbert & Sons Walker Brothers, Bodenburg & Kahn, Wm Sloan C Prag, of firm of Ransohoff & Co. Ellis & Bros, by J M Ellis McGrorty & Henry J Meeks, F Auerbach & Bros. Siegel Bros. Oliver Durant L Cohn & Co, S Lesser & Bros., Klopstock & Co, John H McGrath, Gluckman & Cohn, Wilkinson & Fenn, Morse, Walcot & Co, T Watters J Bauman & Co, M B Callahan, Morris Elgutter, Thomas D Brown & Son.

Great Salt Lake City, Dec 20 1866

Pertinent to the foregoing, the Vedette, of the 21st contained the following:

RUMOR.—The damo is abroad and asserts that Brigham Young, Messrs Glawson, Jennings Godbee and other Mormon merchants, have been cut off from the Church because they purchased goods from Gentiles in the East. This is only in keeping with the restrictions established and insisted upon by the Bishops of this Territory.

A PLANET IN A BLAZE—IS IT OUR TURN NEXT—A correspondent of the Hartford Times has the following, which we copy for the speculation it may afford:

The belief that this earth is to be eventually destroyed by fire is substantiated by the discovery that planets, exceeding the earth in size, have been subjected to heat so intense as to entirely annihilate them from the firmament. The keen eye of the telescope, gathering rays from the planets which are visible and fixed, has afforded the vision of the astronomer sufficient light for him to assert that nearly two thousand of these stars have disappeared from the firmament within the last four centuries.

A few evenings since, while watching the firmament with the moon at her full, my attention was attracted to a large star which stood a few degrees above the eastern horizon, and apparently on fire. It represented very nearly a revolving beacon light—alternating in color—first, its face presented a bright crimson color, then followed a pale blush tint, then it would relapse into its natural whiteness—presenting all the phenomena of a large conflagration when acted upon by a strong wind. I am of the opinion that the star was being consumed by fire.

Such are the triumphs of true science (which always lead the aspirations of man God ward), that the laws which have prevailed in kingdoms not made with hands are made to embellish the Word of Truth, by the mental research of the noblest work of God—man. Who dare dispute the teachings of the revealed Word, that this earth shall be no more o'erspread with water, but that the time shall come when our planet shall melt with fervent heat. Unaffected by this deletion, who can say that other planets will not keep up their revolution and track the heavens, still borrowing their dazzling splendor from the great central orb?

WAR PREPARATIONS IN EUROPE.—The London correspondent of the New York Times says:

Whatever may be the cause, all Europe is arming and preparing for a great struggle. Russia has made a levy en masse, proclaimed a new emancipation in Poland, and is making and importing war material, and pushing on its railway system with great energy. Austria is using every effort to cement the empire and reorganize the army, so as to have a peace establishment of 600,000 men, and a war complement of 900,000, armed with the Remington breech loader, and improved artillery. France has increased the annual conscription and reserves, and the Chassepot breech loader is probably to be superseded by the new gun of Mr Bonin, which fires twenty five balls a minute, while the Emperor has himself invented a breech loading four pounder, the lightest, most rapid, and most effective field piece ever made. The entire cavalry, armed with this piece will act as flying artillery, and needle-guns will be held out of range for any effective use. Of course Prussia will do her utmost to keep her present vantage. She has just bought one of the finest iron clads in England, built for the Sultan. Others are supposed to be building here and in America. Whatever dullness there may be in other manufactures, ships of war, arms and powder are in lively demand.

ARTEMUS WARD IN LONDON.—A correspondent of the New York Times sends the following account of this humorist's first appearance before a London audience:

The reception of Artemus Ward at Egyptian Hall, on Tuesday night, was a great affair for what is called the "silly season." The room was crowded, and the press and literary circles fully represented. People had read the various writings of Artemus, and had inevitably formed their idea of his personal appearance, as the coarse, vulgar, eccentric middle aged showman of wax figgers, the loving husband of Betsy Jane, and father of twins. When the door opened and there walked upon the stage a slender, hatchet faced youth, in a very fashionable evening dress, with every hair combed and curled, looking as if he had crossed the Atlantic in a patent band box, there was a loud, long universal roar of laughter. Artemus was a success before a word was spoken. He made jokes, but the great joak was himself. It lasted through the lecture, and at every pause the audience laughed at the droll discrepancy between the real and imaginary Artemus.

NEARLY A DUEL.—A late Washington dispatch to the New York Tribune says:

Yesterday, a little affair occurred here which came very near resulting in a duel between two distinguished Southern gentlemen. It seems that Dr Sidney of Mississippi, a member of the Southern Radical Association here, while walking thro' the Capitol grounds, was met by one Judge Abel of the same State. Abel differs from Sidney in politics, and saluted him with, "Here you are, you d—d renegade Southerner." Sidney, without replying, immediately knocked Abel down. Here the scene ended until evening when Abel sent a challenge to Sidney to meet him and settle the matter by fighting a duel. The challenge was accepted, and Col Fish, of New Orleans, was selected as Sidney's second, and the fight arranged to come off without unnecessary delay, on the Virginia side of the Potomac. However friends interfered, and the thing was settled without a resort to arms. It is stated that Judge Abel wrote a note of apology, stating that he only intended a little pleasantry in his remark to Dr Sidney. The affair has created no little excitement among the friends of the parties here.

LONGFELLOW is still engaged on Dante. Emerson is reading the proof sheets of a new volume of poems entitled May Day and Other Pieces. Lowell is writing prose and verse for next year's Atlantic. Holmes is progressing with his new novel, The Guardian Angel. Whittier will complete by next Spring a new volume of poems called The Tent on the Beach. Agassiz is engaged with his lectures, and in writing a popular book of travel in Brazil. Miss Lydia Maria Child is engaged on a new novel name and nature not yet announced. James Parton is traveling in the West to write up the large cities for the Atlantic. Bayard Taylor has been chartered by the Atlantic to make a new trip to the Old World and write a series of papers on the "By-ways of Europe."

ON DIT.—The New York Herald of December 15th has the following:

It is rumored, and apparently on good authority, that Hon Ben Wood, State Senator, in a trial of skill with Congressman elect, Hon John Morrissey, at the scientific game of faro, on Wednesday night last, realized the handsome winnings of $140,000. The contest took place at the headquarters of Congressman Morrissey, on Twenty fourth street.

CONVERTED.—The Chicago Tribune says: "A remarkable event took place lately at the Clark street Methodist Episcopal Church, where a prayer meeting was being held by the members of the congregation. During the course of the proceedings a Roman Catholic priest—the Rev Father Kenny of Dubuque—arose and formally renounced his faith in presence of the congregation. Father Kenny has officiated for several years past at Dubuque."

FEMININE JOURNALISTS.—The Tribune has almost always had in its corps of writers one or more clever women, who have contributed not a little to the interest of its columns. Margaret Fuller was among the most notables of that journal and now two more of her sex have extended their reputations on that paper.

Kate Field, who wrote such gushingly enthusiastic notices of Ristori has lately been writing lately among newspaper persons with her presumed antecedents, habits appearance etc, which means fame now a days quite as much as the dolce far niente did in Horace's day.

Another lady who has been a regular member of the staff for nearly two years and who does everything from a fashion article to a leading editorial, is regarded in that office especially by Horace Greeley as the most brilliant writer in the Tribune. Several articles from her pen on Blue Stocking Blot and Clothing as a Fine Art, which appeared last autumn were the most delicious and sparkling contributions to the metropolitan press that I remember. She has extraordinary versatility, and very broad culture, with gifts that should be employed in some more permanent form than journalism affords. She is quite young I understand and fair I presume (she should be, from the dainty grace and poetic beauty of her style) though I am entirely unacquainted with aught save her name Mrs Lubia Gilbert Calhoun. It is said she is writing a comedy and a novel also and they who have the good fortune to be her friends, expect that both will be elegant and brilliant, as no doubt they will be.—Cor Chicago Republican.

A GORILLA CAPTURED.—M d I angle has forwarded to the French Academy the following account of a young gorilla recently captured:

GABOON, THE ZENOBIA July 20, 1866.

My subject is a female. I am told by the black who brought it to me, that the mother was in a palm tree when he carried off the animal. It was eating the palm fruit, those from which the palm is made. The little "Gina" is always suspended from its mother in front in such a position as to be able to suck at any moment and it always takes up that position when the person who carries it lets it do as it likes. But it is very soon troublesome, and when you wish to make it give up that position it utters cries and it is only by trick that it can be made to let go its hold. The sailors manage to strip off their jerseys, and in this way to let the poor Gina fight with the garment. Great is its astonishment when it finds the people it has fallen among can get rid of their skin at pleasure, and it envelops itself forthwith in the cast off garment. This does not last long and it begins its rounds over again until it finds a new friend. It likes bread in fact, it is very fond it, and often prefers it to fruit which makes me hope that it will survive the passage to France.

KEG OF GOLD COIN FOUND.—A Missouri hunter known as "Blackthorn Wash" unearthed an immense golden treasure recently, only a few miles below Wolf Island. In the washed banks of a small ravine, which puts into the Mississippi in that locality, says the Cairo Democrat he detected the end of what be at first regarded as a keg of powder, but attempting to remove it from its resting place, he found it defied his efforts. He thereupon applied a hatchet, which he carried in his belt, and, dashing in the head of the keg was both astonished and gratified at the shower of gold and silver coin that fell with a musical jingle around him. The keg contained three thousand dollars in eagles six hundred and fifty dollars in half eagles, three hundred and fifty dollars in quarter eagles and one hundred and seventy dollars in silver. There was nothing in or on the keg to indicate who buried it there, or when it was buried. From appearances, however, it is believed that it was placed there since the rebellion.

WRECKING IN HAMPTON ROADS.—Mr Underdown and his party of wreckers are meeting with very good success in Hampton Roads. Part of the Merrimac has been raised, and several of her great guns have been recovered. The party have now turned their attention to the Brandywine, the frigate which was burned at Gosport Navy Yard in the earliest days of the rebellion. A cannon of eighty thousand pounds weight and twenty five tons of chain have been brought up, and when the chains are fully adjusted, no doubt is felt that the vessel will be lifted to the surface. There is also a probability that the famous old line of battle ship Pennsylvania will soon be brought up. The workmen have already secured her chains, tank and anchor. The Norfolk Virginian says that the party engaged on the last named ship "have fished up an anchor of very peculiar construction, and weighing between four and five tons. Machinists pronounce it of British construction, and it was doubtless lost during the Revolutionary war.

NEGRO TESTIMONY IN ALABAMA.—Gov Patton of Alabama, in his recent message to the Legislature, says upon the subject: "The right to testify in Courts in certain cases was extended to freedmen at your last session. The law authorizing his testimony was necessarily experimental, but experience has demonstrated that is is productive of good results. Colored persons are permitted to testify in cases where they are interested, and when there is every inducement for false swearing which may be reasonably supposed to influence this class of witnesses. But, even with these strong temptations to commit perjury, the testimony of freedmen has been found valuable in ascertaining the truth. With this experience before us I think that the public good would be promoted by removing all restraints upon the competency of freedom to testify in our Courts."

COULDN'T BE HIRED.—During the canvass in Maryland, the Democrats in one of the interior towns, projected a grand procession, one feature of which was to be a negro riding on a bureau—The piece of furniture was easily purchased, but the man was not to be hired, although the most needy and most worthless colored men in the neighborhood were applied to. Not a negro could be found who would be seen in a Copperhead procession, and one of the Democrats had to personate a black man by the aid of burnt cork. Those who think the negroes such fools that they would vote to please those who design to oppress and degrade them, may take a lesson from this incident.

This is to certify that I John B Jodwan was blind for over nine years and I tried all means of a cure, and and many doctors and all of no effect, and I spent all the means I had. Finally I had to become a county charge and when I was taken to Dr G W Brown and stated my case to him and misfortune he at once commenced to treat my eyes and now I am well and commend all those that are suffering with diseases of the eyes to call on Dr G W Brown. The reason why I do this is to let suffering humanity know where they can be cured.

This is to certify that my daughter was almost blind for over seven years and was doctored by other physicians without obtaining any relief when finally I took her to Dr G W Brown who examined her case and at once began to give her treatment and her sight has been entirely restored. I do this to let those who are suffering with diseases of the eyes know where they can obtain a cure. It has been three years since her eyes were cured and they are yet sound.

SALEM July 21 1866
This is to certify that I was blind for over four months and almost blind for one year and a half. I tried several eye doctors but received no benefit. I had almost given my case up as hopeless when fortunately I heard of Dr G W Brown now of Salem. I was induced to try him, he performed a surgical operation on my eyes and gave me treatment. I soon began to recover and in a short time I was perfectly cured. I do this in justice to one who rescued me from a fate worse than death and also for the benefit of those who are laboring under similar afflictions that they may know where they can get relief. It is now about eight months since my eyes were cured and they still remain good. I can see to read the finest print without difficulty and my eyes can bear the strongest light without pain.

RULES AND REGULATIONS FOR THE PAYMENT OF BOUNTIES UNDER THE ACT TO EQUALIZE BOUNTIES APPROVED JULY 28, 1866
WAR DEPARTMENT, ADJUTANT GENERAL'S OFFICE,
WASHINGTON, September 16, 1866

1 All applications shall be filed within the period of six months from the 1st day of October 1866, and before any payments are made shall be classified by regiments, battalions or other separate organizations, and no application filed after that period shall be settled until after the former shall have been paid.

2 No application shall be entertained unless accompanied by the original discharge of the soldier and the affidavit required by the fourteenth section of the Act, and the further affidavit that he has not received, nor is he entitled to receive from the United States, under any laws or regulations prior to the Act of July 28, 1866 more than $100 bounty for any and all military service rendered by him during the late rebellion, over and above the amount therein claimed.

3 All applications for the additional bounty authorized by the Act from surviving soldiers shall be in the form hereinafter prescribed, and the evidence of identity shall be the same as is now required and applications from the heirs of deceased soldiers shall be in the form now required by the Treasury Department.

4 As soon as the examination of the claims of any regiment or other independent organization, shall have been properly acted upon the Paymaster General shall take the necessary steps for their prompt payment.

5 A register shall be kept in the Paymaster General's office and also in the office of the Second Auditor of all claims presented under the law in which the claimants will be classified by regiments etc. If the claims be allowed, the amount of bounty paid to each will be noted, and if rejected the cause of rejection will be distinctly stated.

6 In the applications for bounty, as required by the third of these rules the affidavit shall state each and every period of service rendered by the claimant and also that be never served otherwise than as herein stated.

7 Organizations irregularly in the service of the United States or called out for special purposes as State Militia, Home Guards etc, and not included in the general bounty laws are not included within the meaning of the Act.

8 Soldiers enlisted for three years or during the war who were discharged by reason of the termination of the war shall be considered as having served out the period of their enlistment, and are entitled to bounty under this Act.

9 The minority of heirs, claimants for bounty under this Act must be proven to have existed at the date of its passage. Parents shall receive jointly the bounty to which they may be entitled as heirs unless the father has abandoned the support of his family in which case it shall be paid to the mother. Non residence in the United States shall not be a bar to the claim of heirs who would otherwise legally inherit.

The provisions of the Act exclude from its benefits the following classes:

1 Those who after serving the full period of their enlistment were dishonorably discharged at its expiration.

2 Those discharged during enlistment by way of favor or punishment.

3 Those discharged on account of disability contracted in the service but not occasioned by wounds received in the line of duty who shall not have previously served two or three years respectively at the time of discharge.

4 Those discharged on account of disability existing at the time of their enlistment.

5 The heirs of those who have died since their discharge of wounds or disease not contracted in the service and in the line of duty.

6. The surviving soldiers and heirs of deceased soldiers who under previous laws have received or are entitled to receive a bounty of more than $100 from the United States.

7 The surviving soldiers, as well as the heirs of deceased soldiers when such soldiers have bartered sold assigned loaned transferred exchanged or given away their final discharge papers or any interest in the bounty provided by this or any other Act of Congress.

8 The Act of the 28th of July 1866 creates no right of inheritance beyond those vested by the law under which these heirs received or were entitled to receive the original bounty and debars other classes, brothers and sisters of heirs that were entitled to receive the original bounty for any form for the additional bounty provided by this Act.

Respectfully referred to the Attorney General for his opinion on the point whether the above regulations as within amended are in conformity with law.
EDWIN M STANTON,
September 14 1866 Secretary of War

I have examined these amended regulations and am of opinion they are in conformity with law.

TO THE UNFORTUNATE.

NEW REMEDIES, NEW REMEDIES
Dr Gibbon's Dispensary,
616 KEARNEY STREET NEAR COMMERCIAL,
San Francisco. Established in 1854, for the treatment of Sexual and Seminal Diseases such as Gonorrhea, Gleet Strictures Syphilis in all its forms. Seminal Weakness Impotency, etc. Skin Diseases (of years standing) and Ulcerated Legs successfully treated.

Horrible Diseases.

How many thousands of persons, both male and female are there who are suffering a miserable existence from the effects of secret indulgences, or from virus absorbed into the system. Look at their pallid, emaciated and disfigured faces and their broken-down constitutions disqualifying them for the happiness of marriage or the enjoyment of life. In this horrid situation thousands suffer until death closes the scene. Let parents, guardians friends attend to those who are suffering with any of these horrible life-destroying maladies—see that they are cared for and cured before it be too late. Send them immediately to Doctor Gibbon, a physician who has made private disease his especial study for years, and who is certain to cure the most inveterate cases without mercury or any injurious drugs. It is important to those who are afflicted or to those who are interested in the welfare of their friends, to be careful of the many pretended doctors who infest all cities publishing their skill in curing all diseases in a few days, imposing upon the public by using the names of eminent physicians from Europe and other places. Be therefore careful and make strict inquiry, or you may fall into the hands of those charlatans.

Seminal Weakness.

Seminal Emissions the consequence of self-abuse. This solitary vice or depraved sexual indulgence is practised by the youth of both sexes to an almost unlimited extent, producing with unerring certainty, the following train of morbid symptoms unless combatted by scientific medical measures viz: Sallow countenance, dark spots under the eyes, pain in the head, ringing in the ears, noise like the rustling of leaves and rattling of chariots, uneasiness about the loins weakness of the limbs, confused vision, blunted intellect, loss of confidence, diffidence in approaching strangers a dislike to form new acquaintances a disposition to shun society, loss of memory, hectic flushes, pimples and various eruptions about the face, furred tongue, feted breath coughs, consumption, night sweats monomania and frequent insanity. If relief be not obtained should apply immediately, either in person or by letter, and have a cure effected by his new and scientific mode of treating this disease, which never fails of effecting a quick and radical cure. Dr G will give One Hundred Dollars to any person who will prove satisfactorily to him that he was cured of this complaint by either of the San Francisco quacks.

DOCTOR GIBBON is responsible, and will give to each patient a written instrument, binding himself to effect a radical and permanent cure or make no charge.

Persons at a distance may be CURED AT HOME, by addressing a letter to Doctor Gibbon, stating case, symptoms, length of time the disease has continued, and have medicines promptly forwarded free from damage and curiosity to any part of the country with full and plain directions for use, for Ten Dollars, sent in registered letter or through Wells Fargo & Co.
